

ArtCorps SuperArtist

A year with ArtCorps calls upon all of these skills.

Art

sees the power of art to transform the world creatively turns resources at hand into high quality art embraces the process tackles unfamiliar territory adventurously and tenaciously has artistic talents that can be replicated long-term in developing communities

Personal

committed to art for social action passionate about social or environmental issues lives maturely and can act independently healthy enough to live remotely and endure the rigors of rural life in a developing country

Interpersonal and Intercultural communicates clearly in Spanish actively builds and values relationships acts with sensitivity to others and their cultures adapts to living and working in a foreign, developing community

Leadership and Teaching establishes and maintains goals inspires and organizes people to participate develops people and empowers them to take the lead

Problem Solving

gathers information like a detective to prepare projects understands partner goals and activities in depth influences others through persuasion, strategy or symbolism
